Pardee Pitched Well, but the Game Was Lost in the Fourth Inning Through the Only Misplays of the Day-The Score.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 28 .- (Special.) The Blues were again nosed out by one run in the game with the Bisons to-day. The visitors struck a snag in the fourth inning and made the only misplays of the day. They came in a bunch and amounted to a wild pitch, a passed ball and a hit by pitch-The Blues would have undoubtedly won the game if the errors had been eliminated. Pardee was very effective and held the Bisons down for five innings without a hit. Gear was again the star hitter of the day, and made a threebagger and a sin-gle. Rothfuss saved his team two runs in the second when he caught a hard fly The Blues were unable to do much with Gray, and the only damage that was re-ceived by the Bisons came in the fourth

Hulen led off in the fourth with a clear single to center. Gear followed with his triple and Hulen scored. Ganzel went out at first and Rothfuss flew out to Hallman. Miller followed with a single to right and Gear scored. McKinney followed with a hit to left field fence for two, upon which Miller tried to score from first, but the quick return of the ball caught him at the plate. Had Miller used better judgment there is no doubt the score could have been increased, for the Blues were hitting Gray hard. Buffalo also made its runs in the fourth, mostly from misplays. Manning was so disgusted with the playing of the Blues on the previous days that he failed to appear with the team at Olympic park to-day. He left early this evening for Pennsylvania to buy new players from the Atlantic League, if such a thing is possible. Manning said he would procure an entirely new outfit if the material could be found. The score: at first and Rothfuss flew out to Hallman

PITTSBURG, July 28.—Pittsburg and Washington split even to-day on a double header. Major Taylor Makes a Fast Mile.

CHICAGO, July 28.—Major Taylor, paced by the steam motor cycle, rode a mile on the Havenswood track to-night in 1:22 2-5. The motor cycle, which is rather a complex affair, went wrong in its insides a dozen times before it was patched up sufficiently to make the pace.

The machine and Taylor started from the farther stretch, and by the time they had reached the tape they were going like the wind. Taylor tacked himself close to the rear wheel and fast as the machine went he stayed with it. The quarter was made in 0:21 1-5, world's time. The half was made in 0:41 1-5, also record time.

The three-quarters was a second slower, for the machine was not true, and, al-

The first heats in both the intermediate sculis and the association senior singles were not far behind in the way of turnishing excitement, O'Keefe, of Springfield, winning the former, and John Rumohr, of Rat Portage, Ont., taking the latter. If the two-mile pull of the intermediate eights had been allowed as a race that, too, would have to be recorded as a contest full of excitement, but unfortunately, one of the crews—the Vespers, of Philadelphia—met with an accident, and the other three, refusing to heed the referee's whistle, kept on to a grand finish, with the New York Athletic Club in the lead. The referce, however, decided no race, and the event will be pulled off to-morrow. Better

Young Ten Eyck and his partner, Charles H. Lewis, had a walkover in the senior double sculls, and led the Delaware Boat Club pair at the finish by nearly a dozen

There was some slight delay at the start, a mile from the start the Vesper crew suddenly stopped rowing and No. 7 threw called for the other three crews to stop, but the fight was too fierce and not one of them dared to give up, although the starters warning was reinforced by the whistie developed into a grand contest between

There was great commotion as the crews

Owing to the illness of Mile. Lisette, of Paris, champion female cyclist of the world, the races arranged for to-night at the Velodrome have been postponed until next Tuesday evening. Lisette's illness is partially due to the fall she sustained recently in a six days' contest at Zanesville, O., when she suffered a bad gash in her side. After a short delay she pluckliy finished the race. For a few days she was under the care of a physician and before she had entirely recovered started for Kansas City to keep her engagements at the Velodrome, going first, however, to Minneapolis to gather up her baggage. The long trip and the exertion attendant on training Thursday proved too much for the little Frenchwoman and yesterday she was compelled to call in a physician. He positively forbade her racing to-night, but said that with perfect quiet she would be in good physical condition by Monday.

Mile. Lisette intends to make Kansas City her headquarters during the summer. She is under contract with Manager Prince, of the Velodrome, to race all comers.

The same programme arranged for tocomers.

The same programme arranged for tonight will be carried out at the Velodrome Tuesday night. It includes the twenty mile race between Lisette and bert Repine, the eighteen hour champion, and the invitation tandem pursuit race, in which four teams will participate. In the twenty mile contest Repine will give the Paris girl a handicap of one mile.

GOLF IN NEW YORK. There Were a Number of Surprises at the Shinnecock Tournament Yesterday. NEW YORK, July 28.-The golf tournament which has been in progress all through the week over the links of the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club has been pro-Shinnecock Hills Golf Club has been productive of a number of surprising things. Not one of the players who were looked upon as likely winners survived. When Harry Hollins was put out of the game and his successful opponent had to succumb to Walter Travis, the latter was thought to haye the president's cup as good as won, but at the last moment he was forced to lower his colors to A. L. Ripley, a Boston banker, who won the big event by two up and one to play late this afternoon.

The Travis and Ripley match was the star event of the day, and these two players were early on the links. They halved the first two holes in fives and fours, but Ripley pulled and topped his drive for the third into the near side of the railroad bank. Taking two to get out, Ripiey lost the hole, 6 to 4. Travis was ten on up, and the next four holes being halved by them there was no change in the standing of the players until Travis met with trouble playing for the eighth. He drove across the railroad track, and the ball fell in a bad lie, from which it took the Oakland man two to get after duffing his fourth, and lost the hole in 7 to 5, the figures being approximated, which made the match square. Travis jumped into the lead again at the ninth, which he won in brilliant style, and he turned for home one up on his opponent. ductive of a number of surprising things, at the ninth, which he won in brilliant style, and he turned for home one up on his opponent.

They halved the tenth in sixes, but Ripley squared matters by holing out the eleventh in 4 to 5, after Ripley had visited a bunker with his second. Travis had the twelfth hole as good as won, but Ripley laid him a stimle, and he had to be satisfied with a half in five. Ripley laid him another stimle in the thirteenth, when Travis was dead for a four, but the stimle compelled another half, this time in sixes. Travis won the fourteenth in 4 to 5, Ripley being short of the green in two, and the next four were halved, so that at the close of the first half of the round Travis was still one up.

Starting out from the last half of their match Ripley and Travis halved the first two holes and the former cut down his opponent's advantage and jumped into the lead himself by winning the third and fourth holes. Travis promptly reversed this order of things by holing out in the next two attempts. Ripley made the match all square again on the seventh hole, which he won in four to five. The eighth was halved in six. and Travis did the better work up the hill for the Ben Nevis hole, which he got in six to seven. This made him one up at the turn for home. The tenth and eleventh were halved, and Ripley won the next two and was one up again. The fourteenth was halved in sixes and Travis got even on the fifteenth by brilliant golf. Going to the sixteenth Travis met with trouble, a carriage interfering with his line of driving from the tee. He pulled his drive into the bunker, but the ball bounded over into a bad lie. Ripley got on the green in three.

A half in five seemed likely, but Ripley on his fourth laid Travis a stimle, prevented the half and Ripley got the hole in 5 to 5. Driving to the seventeenth hole, the wind was in the players' backs and Ripley drove the green. Travis was short on his drive and also with his second. Lipley holed out in 3 to 4 and won the match by two up and one to play.

This Cold Weather

has its advantages as well as its disadvantages—it's a regular snap for the ice cream and soda water man, and the summer girl; the ice man also gets in his work. It's also a big snap for the man who wants to buy good clothing cheap. It's a regular picnic for him. For instance, we feel that we've got to make some very warm prices to bring trade out this weather. Clubs are heremight as well use 'em. Goods are heremight as well turn 'em into cash. That's the way we figure. This store is always on the move-isn't satisfied to stand still. So to-day, as an inducement for you to come down town, we offer all

Weak, Nervous Men.

Nature intended man to be perfect, both mentally and physically. She endowed him with a capacity to reason and laid down certain simple rules of health. But few are guided by a better judgment. Men will continue to live lives of dissipation and excess. They defy nature, but the result is inevitable-weakness, nervous debility, lost manhood, sexual decay, etc. This condition, however, is partially the result of early folly, the stain of youthful indiscretions, or later excesses. It is this weakened condition of the nervous and general system that has yielded to my treatment after all others have failed. Dr. H. J. Whittier is conceded to be the leading and most successful specialist in blood, nervous, urinary and pelvic diseases. Consult him first and you will gain time, save noney and avert years of suffering.

Kid McCoy is not at all pleased at the manner in which Beech Ruble, the Dayton giant, is telling how he floored him in a bout at Dayton a year ago, and, in consequence, has issued a defi in which he agrees to stop the giant inside of six rounds. Ruble is now preparing for his bout with Steve O'Donnell, which takes place at the Westchester Athletic Club tonight, and if he is successful with the Harvard instructor Billy Gray will arrange the match.

Tom O'Rourke has received a telegram from Bat Masterson, who is running the Colorado Athletic Club, at Denver, asking if he would allow Joe Wolcott to endeavor to stop Joe Choynski in six rounds at his club some time next month, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. O'Rourke answered that he would not care to undertake such a limited affair, but said that if Masterson would make it twenty rounds he would agree, and didn't want a cent if Walcott didn't give Choynski his quietus in that time. Masterson has not yet been heard from on this proposition, but it is more than likely that such a match will be arranged within a few days. If all arrangements go through it will put Walcott where O'Rourke has long wanted to place himin a position to meet some of the big heavyweights.
